Seeks $200 Million Farm Cut

LBJ Sends Plan To Congress

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration today proposed legislation designed to cut federal farm spending more than $200 million a year. But retail prices of bread and other foods probably would be pushed up $300 million or more a year.

The extra $100 million in food costs would go toward increasing farm income. In effect, the changes would shift part of the cost of farm programs from the government to consumers.

Savings to the government would come from a major change in the wheat subsidy program and modifications in rice supports and a cropland reduction program, all outlined in a farm bill sent to Congress.

Foods which would be expected to rise in price include bread, bakery products, flour, other wheat products and rice.

Hollywood Dolls Up For Oscar Show Tonight

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Will it be Julie Andrews or Sophia Loren tonight—Oscar night?

That seems to be the major item of suspense as Hollywood dresses up for its biggest show—the 37th annual Academy Awards.

When the nominations first were announced six weeks ago, Miss Andrews looked like the odds-on favorite—almost a shoe-in.

But things have changed. Actors, who only nominate their fellow actors and actresses, made Miss Andrews one of the five top actress nominees and excluded Audrey Hepburn, who did the screen version of "My Fair Lady."

Julie, who created the Eliza Doolittle role on Broadway, was overlooked for the movie version. That may have triggered the actors' snub of Miss Hepburn.

But for Oscar itself, all members of the academy vote. "My Fair Lady," in its screenings for the academy membership, drew the biggest crowds in Oscar history. One night 300 persons, including Greer Garson, were turned away. The academy had to run an extra screening.

Democrat Daley, 63, has been winning elections since he was swept into office by a healthy plurality of 125,000 votes April 5, 1955.

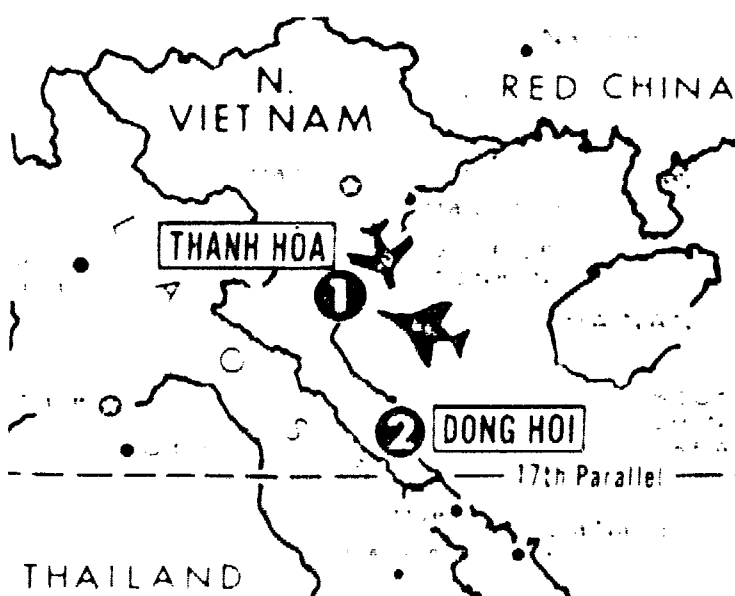

Daley's position is unique in American politics. He is head of both the city's government and the powerful Democratic party of Cook County.

"In his mind he's synonymous with Chicago," said GOP Alderman Jack I. Sperling, a frequent critic of Daley.

"I like him personally," Sperling says, "but to give out patronage and be mayor for all the people is not a very easy task."

Daley's biggest headache is race relations. Chicago has 800,000 Negroes, most of them Democrats and most of them restless, among its 3.5 million residents.

When Daley says that the city has seven Negro aldermen and integrated fire and police

Signal To Ion Engine In Space

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A 970-pound satellite which could hold the key to years-long missions in space heads toward a second critical test today.

Sometime during the early morning scientists planned to send a signal turning on a tiny ion engine, prototype of an electronic—beam device designed eventually for speeds up to 100,000 miles an hour.

Success of the test is expected to be disclosed later by Gen. Bernard Schriever, head of the Air Force Systems Command. The satellite, launched Saturday, cleared its first hurdle early Sunday when a small nuclear reactor, called SNAP—10A, achieved full power, generating 580 watts of electricity.

The Atomic Energy Commission said it was the first time a nuclear reactor operated in orbit and called it "a significant advance in this country's space and atomic energy programs."

Plans called for electricity generated by the reactor and stored in a 460-pound bank of batteries to start up the ion engine for a one-hour run.

In a tiny tank about the size of a lemon, the engine carried enough fuel to operate for 300 hours. It was expected to be shut down, however, after one.

forces, civil rights leaders say there should be at least 16 Negroes in the City Council for fair representation.

Daley was booed off the speaker's rostrum during a 1963 civil rights convention in Chicago.

"The mayor tells his critics that Chicago was one of the few major cities in which there were no racial riots last year."

"We think we're going very well on the question of opportunities for Negroes and all minorities who participate in the life drive of our city," he said.

Daley points with pride to Chicago's progress in the overhaul of the once-inefficient police force; a major superhighway system; a progressive urban renewal program that is attracting middle-class whites back into the city and also has increased the assessed valuation of Chicago real estate by 115 per cent, and the yearly attraction of more than $1 billion worth of new business and industries into the city.

Along with his political chores, the 5-foot-8, 200-pound Daley wears two other hats—those of a father of seven and a proud Irish Catholic.

Divers Reach 4 In Cave

BULLETIN

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP)—Skin divers today reached four spelunkers trapped in Rowland Cave near here and reported that all were safe.

The four explorers were found in a small room where they climbed to escape rising waters which trapped them early Sunday.

By BILL SIMMONS
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP)—A flickering string of lights offered hope today for the lives of four spelunkers trapped in a cave by a flooding underground stream.

Skin divers tried—and failed—to reach the trapped men through the dark depths of the swollen stream.

A special cave rescue unit was en route from Washington. The four men entered the cave early Saturday night—Hugh Shell, 46, of Batesville, Ark., a veteran spelunker, and three college students, Mike Hill, Steve Wilson and Hogan Bledsoe.

Rescue workers said lights outside the cave, at the end of a line reaching 900 feet inside, blinked in a distinct S-O-S signal several times—an eerie but hopeful sight in the nightlong vigil.

The rescue workers took the signals as a sign of hope that the four trapped men were safe above the water level in one of the rooms off the main tunnel.

The string of bare light bulbs was installed in the outer reaches of the cave to give interior lighting and enhance the tourist value of the cave.

The lights are hooked up in series—as are many strings of Christmas tree lights—and when one goes out, they all go out. This way, the trapped men could signal by unscrewing a bulb at the end of the line.

Water flows frequently through the cave, but usually not deep enough to trouble either spelunker or tourist—"and never this deep before," said a deputy sheriff when a skin diver reported depths of 30 to 35 feet.

When the four spelunkers entered Rowland Cave—a maze of unexplored limestone tunnels in this remote and hilly section of north Arkansas—Saturday, they said they would come out by noon Sunday. The cave was dry then.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Don Merrill and Mrs. Chole Blizard. The flats were on the second floor of a two-story building which also housed a billiard parlor and a restaurant.

20 Killed As Quake Hits Greece

ATHENS, Greece, (AP)—A violent earthquake struck the center of the Peloponnese Peninsula today, killing at least 20 persons and injuring 200. Police said the final death toll might go as high as 30.

The victims were in a score of villages in the Megalopolis area 100 miles southwest of Athens. They were caught in the wreckage of collapsing houses as they slept.

Fifty of the injured were in serious condition. Thousands wandered dazed through the ruins.

Five of the worst hit villages were 90 per cent destroyed and uninhabitable.

The rolling quake hit at 5:13 a.m. It destroyed 2,000 homes and left many villages cut off from all communication.

Megalopolis was hard hit and the population of 2,507 was in panic.

Premier George Papandreu held an emergency Cabinet meeting and declared the area an emergency zone.

Relief forces were rushed to the area with medical supplies, tents and blankets.

Athens slept through the shock undisturbed. The capital had felt two lighter tremors last week.

12 Killed On Illinois Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 12 persons were killed in auto accidents on Illinois roads and highways last week.

Friday night, three persons were killed in a head-on collision on a curve in a rural road west of West Union in southeastern Illinois. The victims were Bertha Jones, 68, of Ohlberg, June Jones, 44, of Robinson, and W.O. Miller, 49, of Casey.

Michael Reese, 14, of Bellefontaine, was killed when he attempted to run across Interstate 70 in North St. Louis County.

In incidents Saturday: Elmer Parker, 32, of Mattoon, was killed in a head-on collision on U.S. 45, one mile south of Mattoon. The driver of the other car, Ortega Edmonds, Chicago was critically injured.

Two men were killed in a head-on collision on Illinois 1, five miles north of Hoopeston. They were identified as Phillip Buhovecky of Georgetown and Robert Beatty of Danville.

David Leschewski, 30, of LaSalle, was killed in an auto crash at U.S. 51 and Wentzell Road north of Peru. He was a passenger in a car driven by Peter G. Garzanelli, 22, of LaSalle.

Kenneth R. Bagby, 42, of Joliet was struck and killed by a car driven by John William Davies, 21. The accident occurred while Bagby walked in the street near his home.

Michael R. Smith, 18, of Rural St. Charles, was killed Sunday when his car veered into a guard rail on East River Road, St. Charles.

Jacob Knapf, 83, was killed in a collision on a rural road Sunday near Wilmington.

About midnight last night, a car driven by Carmelo G. Perez, 29, of Aurora, went off an overpass in Eola, landing upside down on the Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. track and killing Perez.

No enemy aircraft were reported sighted. Communist MIG fighters shot down two U.S. supersonic jets Sunday in the first air clash of the Viet Nam war and got away in the haze.

The Navy raid, launched from the carrier Coral Sea, was against the Vinh Linh early warning radar installation just north of the 17th Parallel border, a U.S. spokesman said.

Thirty Skyraider, Skyhawk and Skywarrior planes hit the target with 25 tons of general-purpose bombs from 250 to 1,000 pounds in size. They also used napalm.

A U.S. spokesman said the target "was heavily damaged." He said the weather was clear, visibility good and no anti-aircraft fire was encountered.

A flight of 16 U.S. Air Force jets struck rail lines and highways in North Viet Nam today, blowing up at least one train. Red groundfire was reported "moderate."

A U.S. spokesman said an F105 Thunderchief was shot down, but the pilot was recovered.

He said 10 F105 strike planes using rockets and cannon ranged over Routes 7 and 8 about 120 miles south of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi. Six other jets flew cover and took photographs.

Rules Accused May Question Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court extended today to state criminal trials the U.S. Constitution's fundamental right of a defendant to question witnesses against him.

Justice Hugo L. Black, delivering the unanimous decision, declared that "the Sixth Amendment's right of an accused to confront the witnesses against him is likewise a fundamental right and is made obligatory on the states by the 14th Amendment."

Charge Two Sold Defense Secrets To Soviet Union
WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI agents seized two men today—including a Pentagon courier who was missing for two months last fall—on charges of selling U.S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union.

Agents arrested Army Sgt. Robert Lee Johnson, 43, of Alexandria, Va., at the Pentagon, and James Allen Minkkenbaugh, 46, of San Martin, Calif. Minkkenbaugh was arrested in Castro Valley, Calif.

The two were arrested after the FBI filed a complaint in U.S. District Court at Alexandria, Va., charging they conspired together with a Russian, Vitaly Ourjournov, and others, to obtain and deliver to Russia information on the national defense of the United States.

Ourjournov is named as a co-conspirator in the complaint. He formerly was assigned to the Russian Embassy in Paris and reportedly is now in Russia, the FBI said.

Johnson, according to the complaint, was recruited to spy for the Soviets while stationed in Berlin in 1953. The FBI said he recruited Minkkenbaugh in 1953, when Minkkenbaugh also was in the Army.

The FBI said they were "particularly concerned with furnishing classified information relating to military installations, missile sites and intelligence activities of the U.S. government at both foreign and domestic locations."

Seek To Register In Selma

By JOE ZELLNER

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Negroes planned to march by the hundreds today to the Dallas County courthouse to try to become registered voters so their voices can be heard in future elections.

This is the first registration day since a 50-mile trek from here to Montgomery was completed March 25 as a protest of alleged voter discrimination.

The president of the County Voters League, F.D. Reese, told about 350 Negroes at a rally Sunday night: "We must keep on marching until every qualified Negro is registered so that when the next election comes, we will be ready."

Hosea Williams, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said in Washington that Selma Negroes "are going to register like flies" if the new voter law is passed by Congress.

There were these other racial developments:

1. At Morganton, N.C., the imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., told about 2,000 people—including some robed klansmen—that "soon we are going to have revolution in this country." He told a Klan rally that the Civil Rights Act was supposed to have halted street demonstrators and moved their grievances to the courts, "but it has not been so."

2. King's wife, Coretta, said at a Detroit dinner that college students across the country will be asked by King to aid voter-registration drives in 120 highly segregated Southern counties.

3. About 500 civil rights workers, protesting alleged racial imbalance in the Boston schools, demonstrated in front of a Boston auditorium where the convention of the National School Boards Association is being held.

4. The leader of the Black Muslims, Elijah Muhammad, invited King to stop seeking the right to vote and join in qualifying Negroes to govern themselves. He said in a radio talk that the right to vote has brought nothing to Negroes in the North.

In Montgomery, Negroes worshipped at the Memorial Presbyterian Church, but were turned away from two other white churches, Trinity Presbyterian and St. James Methodist.

The reward for information about those responsible for a recent bombing and attempted bombings in Birmingham reached $84,000. Gov. George C. Wallace has asked Alabamians to push it over $100,000.

President May Make Speech On Viet Nam
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson may make a speech on the general situation in Viet Nam, the White House announced today.

The time and the place were not disclosed. White House press secretary George E. Reedy said he would fill in the details later if there is a speech.

He said it would be along the lines of remarks the President made to the Cabinet last week when he outlined the general Vietnamese situation.

Reedy said Johnson has had a number of discussions with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and McGeorge Bundy, White House adviser on national security affairs, to work on a response to a message of 17 nonaligned nations on Viet Nam.

"We expect to have a reply come out sometime this week," Reedy said, "and the President may speak later this week on Viet Nam."

Other Measures

To Seek Fair Housing Bill OK In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Administration forces will open their drive Tuesday for enactment of a fair housing bill in the Illinois Legislature.

At the same time, Republican leaders are preparing to offer measures spelling out their views on the open occupancy controversy which has plagued the legislature in recent years.

The administration proposal is set for a full hearing before the House Executive Committee. The bill calls for creation of a commission to investigate complaints of alleged discrimination in housing.

The bill also would empower the commission to issue cease and desist orders and to seek contempt of court action if the orders were not obeyed.

Another provision would permit a person claiming discrimination in housing to file a civil suit seeking damages.

The Republican proposal is expected to provide that real estate dealers and salesmen, money-lending agencies and others connected with property transactions be required to sell, rent or lease property and make loans regardless of a client's race or creed.

The administration bill has strong backing in the Democratic-controlled House but faces attack in the Republican-controlled Senate.

Two rival measures for regulating guns are at passage stage, one in the House and the other in the Senate.

The Senate bill, drafted by GOP leaders, calls for severe penalties for crimes committed by an armed person.

The House bill, backed by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his anticrime committee, would require licensing of concealable guns. It has drawn some of the heaviest opposition of any bill this session.

Also ready for a passage vote is a bill supported by Secretary of State Paul Powell to reflectorize vehicle license plates and increase fees 50 cents.

Gov. Otto Kerner's recommendation for combating the dropout problem by raising the compulsory school attendance age from 16 to 18 is docketed for a hearing Tuesday by the House Education Committee.

BETTE DAVIS CELEBRATES 57TH BIRTHDAY
LONDON (AP)—American actress Bette Davis starts her 57th birthday Monday. A small birthday celebration is scheduled on the set at Elstree Studios.

On other matters relating to civil rights, Katzenbach: "Forecast that a bill to control the activities of the Ku Klux Klan would be submitted to President Johnson within two weeks. He said the bill more likely would be aimed at providing stiffer penalties for Klan-type crimes of violence, than at the organization itself."

—Estimated the strength of the Ku Klux Klan at 10,000 men, but said, "I don't think the Klan has much influence over the general thinking of the South at all." He indicated, in reference to Klansmen, "I would be surprised if they were not" involved in recent bombings and bomb scares in Birmingham, Ala.

—Described Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's nationwide image as "that of a racist—a very anti-Negro image." But he said Wallace probably considers himself as a segregationist: "I suspect like many people in the South he does not see the relationship between segregation and racism."

—Asserted that the Communist party has attempted to inject itself into the American civil rights movement, but has been "remarkably unsuccessful in actually influencing any decisions, and certainly has not captured any of the leadership."

Close Road For 3½ Hours

MIGs Fly Across Air Corridors

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists, defying Western access rights to West Berlin, closed the Berlin autobahn for more than 3½ hours today and MIG jet fighters flew across the air corridors leading to the divided city.

The Communists claimed their actions were necessary because of East German-Soviet military maneuvers. Westerners believed they were in retaliation for West Germany's plans to hold a session of Parliament in West Berlin Wednesday to underline the West's contention that West Berlin is part of West Germany.

It was the first time in 16 years that the Communists completely halted all automobile traffic moving to and from Berlin over the 110-mile highway through East Germany. Secondary roads were open, but some delays were reported.

The steel barriers at Berlin and Helmsdorf, on the West German frontier, went down at 9:30 a.m. Armed Communist guards refused Germans, as well as Allied travelers, the right to cross East Germany. The barriers were lifted again at 1 p.m. in Berlin and at 2 p.m. at Helmsdorf.

In the air, Allied radar screens picked up one MIG fighter over a U.S. Air Force Convair transport flying the air corridor to Berlin.

Another MIG buzzed Tegel Airport in the French sector of Berlin, coming down to 300 feet to flash over the runway of the airfield used by the West.

The Communists originally indicated that the closure of the autobahn would last until 4 p.m. The fact that the highway was (Continued On Page Seven)

You And "They"

Whenever we are faced with the grim fact of cancer — through the death of a loved one, or the long illness of a friend, or even our own struggle with the dread disease—we inevitably ask: "When will 'they' find a cure for cancer?"

"They" haven't yet found a magic cure-all for cancer, but "they" have already discovered so many different ways to fight the disease that there are 1,300,000 Americans alive today who have been cured. "They" can now save one out of every three cancer patients and are working toward a realistic goal of saving one out of two.

But "they" haven't done all this alone. They have had help. Your help.

This is Crusade against Cancer month. At this time, in particular, the American Cancer Society asks you to get to know the Seven Danger Signals of cancer and, if you should have one that persists more than two weeks, go to your doctor. In its early stages, cancer is usually localized in one area and grows painlessly. If detected and treated before it spreads, cancer can often be cured.

For example, three out of four patients with cancer of the colon and rectum can be cured if diagnosed and treated promptly. That is why you should have a simple proctoscopic examination once a year as part of a regular health checkup — little enough for you to do if "they" are to save your life.

Again, the American Cancer Society reports that cancer of the lung is the most rapidly mounting cause of death from cancer. Cigarette smoking is the major cause of lung cancer. So if you are already a smoker, stop smoking, and if you don't smoke, don't start. Obviously you can do more to insure yourself from lung cancer than anything "they" can do.

Then there's another way that "they" need your help.

If "they" are to continue to search for causes to discover new anti-cancer drugs, to develop new surgical techniques, build more powerful radiation equipment — "they" need you.

During Crusade against Cancer month each and every one of us has a special opportunity to join the American Cancer Society in its mounting offensive against cancer.

Give . . . and give generously, so "they" can go on working to protect you and your loved ones against cancer.

Spring Will Catch Up

Many millions of Americans have just received their annual reminder that there is a sharp difference between spring according to the calendar and the season marked by greenery, flowers and balmy zephyrs. Almost anywhere in the northern half of the nation, one might well conclude that the first days of spring are more like winter than winter itself.

The lesson is a familiar one, and so is the sense of disappointment.

Even those hardy souls who shrug off January's worst feel irritated and cheated when grim weather makes a final stand in late March.

There is one great source of consolation, however. Tough as old Boreas may prove himself to be, his time is about over. We have reached that season when the backbone of winter can be broken by one day of sunshine and warm breezes. So hang tight, everyone. Any day, now, real spring is going to catch up with calendar spring.

Dear Ann:

No On Hoof Counseling

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a very unusual problem and since you are responsible for it, in a way, I hope you will give me some help.

My wife looks like you. People are always coming up to her on the street, in the grocery store, in the laundromat, any place at all, and asking for advice.

She used to say, "You are mistaken. I am not Ann Landers," and that would be the end of it. But lately she has been saying, "Tell me all the details and I will try to help you." These unhappy people hopefully pour out their personal problems and my wife has been getting an earful. Lately she's been telling folks what to do. I think that's going too far. What do you say?—MARRIED TO YOUR DOUBLE

Dear Married: Thanks for the tip. Here is an open letter to all readers:

I do NOT counsel on the street, in grocery stores, or in laundromats.

If you think you see me, by all means say hello, but please don't ask me what to do about your lazy daughter-in-law or your six-martini husband. The best I can do "on the hoof" is suggest that you write me a letter.

Dear Ann Landers: We live in a city which has a famous hospital and clinic. My husband and I moved here two years ago and we like this city very much.

The first year we lived here 18 friends and relatives came to stay with us while they were going through the clinic or accompanying someone else. Last year we had 20 such guests. This year will undoubtedly be a record-breaker.

pany. Hotels are so depress-have had some defect. He asked for another dog. Bob said, OK. When Bob left the room I asked my brother-in-law when he was going to pay for the first dog. He replied, "You don't think I'm going to pay for a dead dog, do you?" I am really burned up. This morning I told Bob his brother is a cheap jerk and not to give him another dog until he pays for the first one. He suggested that I mind my own business. What do you suggest?—BOILING BONNIE

Dear Boil: A muzzle — for you. If your husband wants to avoid a brother fight (which can be far worse than a dog fight, stay out of it. It may not make sense to you financially but obviously it is important to your husband emotionally.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Last month the dog died suddenly. Al told Bob the dog must ing." We are sick of providing bed and board for free-loaders. I work part-time in my husband's business and the extra laundry, grocery shopping, and preparation of company meals is not only hard on my back but on my budget as well. How can I tell friends and relatives that we just can't have them here?—X. AWSTED

Dear X: I recommend plain English—unless you can communicate better in another language.

If you were half as articulate with the folks who take advantage of you as you are when you gripe to me, there would be no problem.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband, Bob, raises hunting dogs. Several months ago his brother Al asked for a dog and said he would pay him later when he had the money.

Last month the dog died suddenly. Al told Bob the dog must

Washington Neglect of Viet's Hamlets Weakens War on Reds

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It might be well to look at a South Vietnamese hamlet and see why we're not winning despite excellent paper programs and millions in economic aid.

Here are excerpts from a revealing confidential report made a short time back by a Vietnamese inspection team:

Phu Thoi hamlet (fictitious name), 741 population, 35 radios, 156 school children, nine miles from Saigon, does not have a hamlet council or local governing committee. Security and defense are in the hands of a local militia.

"No one (in the hamlet) knows the provincial chief's name nor his face. As to the district chief, the people stated they have heard about him, but no one has seen him nor do they know his name."

A government representative lives in the hamlet—at least his family does. But he rarely comes to see the hamlet or his family. So there is virtually no local government or security.

"Some three weeks ago at about 10 p.m. the Viet Cong came and knocked at doors and asked the people to show their family registers. Those who complied had their registers torn up by the VC. . . . The VC remained in the hamlet until 3 a.m. and they cut the fence and pulled out pickets before leaving. The VC did not make propaganda; they only told the people to inform the (government) of their deaths."

U.S. officials make much of the agricultural and veterinary agents and the agricultural credit system aimed at helping the country people help themselves improve their living. They boast of the establishment of hamlet clinics and the well-digging program. They talk a great deal about the corn-and-pig program under which farmers are loaned pigs or money to get pigs, given instruction and aid to develop a pig population and add to their incomes. But the report continues:

"The hamlet has no health station. Representatives of such services as agriculture, veterinary and agricultural credit have never come."

"Water is the most critical problem. The people must go to another hamlet to get drinkable water."

"People have heard about the (U.S.-sponsored) pig-and-corn program for some time, but it has not yet been carried out." They "believe that only families having landed property can take part."

They ask: "Is government agricultural credit money only available to property owners? Is there any way which would permit (ordinary farmers) to borrow money from this service?"

Fertilizer, however, has been received by some families. The inspection team reports the most urgent requests of the people to their local government are—

—"Dig a well to provide drinking water."

—"Repair bridge in hamlet."

—"Build a health station."

—"Maintain security for the hamlet's people."

Information cadres have never operated in the hamlet. (In this vacuum the active Communist propagandists have made hay.)

Below is a partial list of Phu Thoi hamlet youths who have followed the VC:

Nguyen Van Mam, born 1927, joined the VC in 1956; Nguyen Van Nghia and Tran Van Duc, born 1942, dodged the draft in 1961 to follow the VC; Tran Van Ty and Tran Van Tay, born 1945, taken by the VC right in the hamlet in 1964.

This hamlet is typical in one way or another of the majority of hamlets in South Viet Nam. If we are to win this war, it is clear that more effort must be put into getting out to the hamlets to insure that farm people learn how to help themselves. Help-yourself plans that lie in Saigon are no help in defeating the Viet Cong in the country.

The great auk, extinct since 1844, was a large flightless sea bird, slightly smaller than a tame goose. Its body was 30 inches long, its wings very short. The wings were used for underwater swimming. It was native to Iceland, the Faerøe Islands and Newfoundland. It was slaughtered for food in such great numbers that the bird eventually became extinct. Today it exists only in museums.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spring is the vague time in Washington, that busy-busy period when much is doing and little is finished, but few springs have been vaguer than this.

To begin with, President Johnson has four big proposals pending in Congress: medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, a voting bill to make sure Negroes can go to the polls, and some measure to curb the Ku Klux Klan.

But more vague than anything is the unfinished business in Viet Nam.

Johnson probably never expected to get medical care, aid to education and the voting bill in precisely the form he asked, and he is not likely to since some revisions are inevitable after full House and Senate consideration.

But it seems certain he will get all three in a form still satisfactory to him, and perhaps even more far-reaching than he requested.

All of which is a great tribute to his extraordinary ability to get Congress to see things his way, an ability which involves personal meetings with most or all members of Congress, personal telephone calls and messages, and visits from his aides.

If any president was able to get just one of those pieces of legislation through in any one year — say aid to education — it would have been considered a great triumph.

But to get aid to education and medical aid through in this one year will be a dazzling performance.

The crack-down on the Klan is still in its baby stage if only because the House Committee on Un-American Activities is going to investigate the Klan and not much in legislation can be expected until that is finished.

It is in Viet Nam that the country is left guessing and there are no prophets around glibly or confidently predicting the outcome there.

In the past few weeks there have been rumors around Washington — perhaps rumors is not as good a word as murmurs — that the North Vietnamese Communists would like to start talking about a settlement.

But there is nothing definite — publicly known, that is — to indicate any such desire by the Reds who have been stoically under American bombing as one week of it follows another.

The bombing has had the obvious purpose of pressuring the North Vietnamese into seeking a settlement. As time goes by, and the Reds show no signs of bending, the Johnson administration's inclination to extend the bombing ever deeper into North Viet Nam seems sure.

At this time the Soviet Union and Red China, despite some grumblings and half-hearted threats, have been unusually quiet, too, and all this only adds to the guessing.

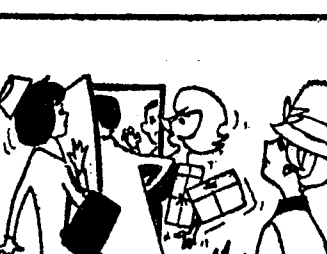

No one is pretending to know what Red China will do if the Americans, for instance, finally decide to bomb the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

When all this is added up it comes down to phenomenal success for Johnson at home and a great, brooding uncertainty about what may happen overseas.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Visit Nursery School

Before Enrolling Child

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Nursery schools are gaining in numbers and popularity. It is not too early to look ahead if your child will be ready in the fall.

A young mother may want to send her child to a nursery school because she is employed outside the home. She may want more free time for outside activities. Or it may be that there are no children her child's age in the immediate vicinity.

Regardless of her reasons she should ask herself: "Is my child ready to adjust to this new experience?"

"Does the nursery school give him the kind of experience he needs? Does the school meet certain minimum standards?"

Since nursery schools vary widely, visit the school before enrolling your child. Thus you can observe whether the children appear to be happy. It is very important that each child should have a chance to tell the teacher and others about his experiences. Easy communication is a valuable asset. The earlier it is developed the better.

Teachers should be friendly and understanding. In matters of discipline they should be firm but gentle. They should welcome conferences with parents. There should be at least two teachers for each group of 15 to 20 children so that one can give a few minutes of individual attention to a child who needs it while the other one supervises the group. One or more of the teachers should have had training in first aid.

While you are at the school inquire about such safety measures as protection against accidents and fire. Look and see if the toilets are clean and take note of the play materials and equipment.

In any contact with a group your child will be exposed to some infectious diseases. When these are mild they help your child build up an immunity to many common infections. This is an advantage. It is a regular experience in the armed forces that, in the first few months of training, recruits have many infections, mostly of the upper respiratory tract. Youths from rural areas who have had limited contacts with others are always harder hit than those who come from the cities.

If, however, while your child is attending nursery school he has a series of 4 or 5 colds one after another you should consider withdrawing him from the school for a few weeks.

We, the Women Fine Art of Budget-Busting Explained for You

By RUTH MILLETT

If you don't want to spend more than you can afford when you go shopping—

Never try on clothes you can't afford. (If the price tag is out of your reach, why submit yourself to all that temptation?)

Never take off on a shopping expedition when you're good and mad at your husband. (There will be the temptation to be reckless with his money, just to get even.)

Never take along a woman friend who has a great deal more money to spend than you do. (She may convince you that YOU can't pass up an expensive item you could, and would, if you were alone.)

Never go shopping just because you are feeling down in the dumps. (This is when a woman does her most impulsive buying. Go to a movie instead. It is a much less expensive way to get out of the doldrums.)

If you must shop with someone, then choose a friend who is known to be a shrewd shopper. (You may even learn a few things from her, and you can be sure she won't be extravagant.)

Don't take your husband along.

The time to take your husband with you is when you intend to be a bit extravagant, because husbands tend to take the attitude: "If that's what you want, buy it—and let's get out of here."

Learn how to say "No" without any hint of hesitation in your voice. (In this case, she who hesitates is lost—if she is in the hands of a persuasive saleswoman.)

American Menu Halibut Surprise

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Broiled fish is an important item in the weight watcher's diet. Also in Lenten meatless meals. But neither of these two considerations means that broiled halibut and other broiled fish should not be deliciously prepared. Try this recipe.

Halibut Surprise
(4 servings)

2 pounds halibut steaks
1-3 cup melted butter or margarine
2 teaspoons lemon juice
About 2-3 cup finely crushed potato chips

Parsley
Combine butter with lemon juice. Brush 1 side of steaks with mixture. Arrange in bottom of broiler pan; sprinkle with half of potato chips. Broil in preheated broiler 3 inches from heat, 3 to 8 minutes depending on thickness of steak. Turn, brush with butter mixture, sprinkle with remaining potato chips and broil 3 to 8 minutes more—until fish flakes easily when tested with fork but is still moist. To serve, sprinkle with any remaining butter mixture and garnish with parsley.

Gourmet's Shrimp and Scallop Broil
(4 to 6 servings)

1 pound shrimp, shelled and deveined
1/2 cup salad oil
3 tablespoons soy sauce
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon grated onion
3 tablespoons catchup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt or seasoned salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Arrange shrimp and scallops in single layer in shallow pan. Combine salad oil with rest of ingredients; pour over shrimp and scallops and refrigerate 3 hours or longer. About 20 minutes before serving, preheat oven to broiling temperature. Arrange seafood in single layer in bottom of broiler pan. Broil about 5 minutes, turning once and brushing again with salad oil mixture.

Craft Day
Craft Day will be held at the IREC Building in Winchester on Tuesday, April 7, from 9:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. Easter decorations and food ideas for Easter will predominate the day's activities. Bring your ideas and materials to work and let's have fun together.

Town & Country Show
Morgan and Scott Counties are holding a Town and Country Art Show. Amateur artists from Morgan, Scott and surrounding counties will be exhibiting. The show is an interpretive selection event rather than a competitive, prize-winning event. An expert art jurist will appraise and criticize all entries. Outstanding exhibits will be taken to a district art exhibition. From the district show, the best work will go on to the State Show at the University of Illinois.

A critique by the art jurist will be given for all exhibiting artists on Thursday, April 8, 7:00 p.m. The art show will be held in Seibert Hall of the Methodist Church in Winchester, April 9-10. The gallery will be open for public viewing from 2-9 p.m. each day.

Donations received will be used to defray the cost of the show and to provide tuition for an art course at Strawn's Art Gallery to the most promising youth artist of the show. People in the community are urged to visit the display of local amateur work.

Island Grove. New Berlin Township Slates

NEW BERLIN—A large turnout is expected for Tuesday's elections in New Berlin and Island Grove townships with candidates from both parties campaigning briskly.

In the New Berlin township supervisor's race, John L. Haugh, incumbent Democrat opposes Republican Theodore Peters. For the office of township clerk, Judith M. Marr, D., is pitted against Myrtle M. Rinaldo, R. Mary Alice McMillan, R., opposes the incumbent Democrat, Fred Breeding, for the assessor's post.

Doris L. Baker, D., the present township clerk, is a candidate for the office of collector and is opposed by Agnes T. Ridder, R. The Republican candidates for auditor are Richard D. Eckley, Edward W. Taylor and William C. Zachary Sr. while Oliver E. Adkins, David M. Henry and Patrick J. Grey represent the Democrats.

In Island Grove Township, the Republican candidates are as follows: for the office of supervisor, W. K. Dunlap; collector, Jane Veir; assessor, William Verries; clerk, Don Kloppe; auditors, James Hitt, Keith King and J. M. Striegel. The Democratic slate, composed of incumbents seeking reelection, is headed by Harry E. Clements, candidate for supervisor; Charles J. Winkler, collector; Cleo Humphrey, assessor; Ethel M. Tankersley, clerk; Milburn Marr, Elmer Walter and John W. Wilson, auditors.

Troubled With Getting Up Nights, Pains in Back, Hips, Legs, Nervousness, Tiredness.

If you are a victim of the above symptoms, the trouble may be traceable to Glandular Inflammation... a condition that very commonly occurs in men of middle age or past and is often accompanied by depression, emotional upset and other mental reactions. Although many people mistakenly think surgery is the only answer to Glandular Inflammation, there is now a non-surgical time-tested treatment available.

Non-Surgical Treatments
This New Free Illustrated BOOK tells about the modern, mild, Non-Surgical treatment for Glandular Inflammation and that the treatment is backed by a Lifetime Certificate of Assurance. Many men from all over the country have taken the NON-SURGICAL treatment and have reported it has proven effective. The Non-Surgical treatment described in this book requires no painful surgery, hospitalization or long period of convalescence. Treatment takes but a short time and the cost is reasonable.

a need for you to get out of there quickly. You knew your wife would also have to clear out and come back home.
Knowing you were running a dangerous risk, you went out and started walking back across the parking lot, and suddenly you realized you still had that golf club in your hand. You got rid of it by tossing it into the rear seat of the other car, the rented one, in passing."

Momentarily Clay's mind teetered. He was recalling

Sara—Sara saying, "I'm sure David doesn't know how that golf club turned up in his car
—there must be a perfectly innocent explanation." He had doubted her at the time, but here was Barcello unwill-ingly backing her up!

Clay pushed himself to his feet, full of a trembling sickness. "That's the best piece of fabrication I ever heard.
Lieutenant—the work of a master. All you need now is some small scrap of evidence to help you start proving it."

"Evidence is made to be found, Mr. Belden."

"Lieutenant, you disappoint me. I thought cheap trickery was beneath you. I thought you were a straightforward, fair fighter. Instead, you hit below the belt."

Barcello stood. "Good night, Mr. Belden."

"That's all? You come here, drop your bombshell on my head, then simply walk out?"
Barcello looked at him without answering.

"Do you expect me to sit here and brood over your fancy piece of stupidity?"

It was another mistake.
Barcello's eyes sent him a dark and dangerous flash.
Clay's answer compounded his errors: he laughed.

Barcello's face hardened surprisingly and he moved on;
and just as he reached the door it opened.

Cynthia came in. She looked from Barcello's face to Clay's. She instantly sensed the atmosphere of crisis. She turned on the detective furiously.

"Now what? What have you done to my husband?"

Barcello passed her without speaking, stepped out the door and shut it. Cynthia hurried on to Clay and stood close, searching his eyes.

"Clay?"
"Give me a breather. That man shakes me up worse than a ride on a runaway roller coaster."

It was no help to tell himself that Barcello was only doing his job; Barcello was doing it too well, with a staggering effect. Clay needed minutes to regain his balance and to bring his mind clearly into focus on the meaning of what Barcello had done to him.

"There goes a clever man, Cyn. Most of the time he's so smooth you can't tell what he's up to. But this time—"
Clay's face was pale and set.
"He's cooked up quite an elaborate picture of me as a mur-derer."

Cynthia's chin dropped.
"Why the man's out of his mind?"

"Far from it, Barcello does not rely very much on questions. He gives you to understand he doesn't need to ask any because he already knows the answers. What he tells you may not be the truth, and he may know it isn't, but still he insists on it, and when you deny it he doesn't listen. No, that's not quite it—he does listen but he doesn't argue.
You wind up feeling defenseless—overwhelmed."

Cynthia walked slowly across the room, sank into a chair and looked at Clay for a long, troubled moment before she spoke. "He's made a good start on both of us.
He's made you doubt me. You don't want to but you can't help it."

"If he left out any details, there weren't many. He not me right there in that motel room with that golf club in my hand and howie dead on the floor and you hiding in the bathroom."

Mailbag Facts and Foibles—

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things
columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Midgits are born in only about one out of a million births. They occur in all the races of mankind.

Throughout history men have been more likely to wear beards in war than in peace. An exception was the Romans, who generally preferred to remain clean-shaven. Queen Hatshepsut of Egypt wore a ceremonial gold beard as a symbol of her divinity.

Psychologists have found that old maids are more content with life than bachelors — and live longer.

Nature notes: Fish have no eyelids. The stomach of a hippopotamus is long enough for a man to lie down and sleep in.
The crane has its ears in its legs. The gray fox can climb trees. Walrus keep harems.

The name of the U.S. president is signed more than 100,000 times a year.

Quotable notables: "We have confused the free with the free and easy" — Adlai E. Stevenson.

Camping out is becoming a way of life for thrifty tourists who want to see America First.
The nation now has some 25,000 campgrounds, most of which charge fees of only 50 cents to $1.50 a day.

The unemployed on the island of Cyprus spend most of the day sitting still — to avoid stimulating their appetites.

Transportation headache:
Traffic tieups do more than cause upset tempers. It is estimated they cost $5 billion a year in lost time, extra fuel costs, and wear and tear on vehicles.

Childhood psychology: Pets do as much as medicine for some emotionally disturbed children. A researcher found that large animals were better for kids who have trouble getting along with people, small animals for kids who are too introspective.

The high cost of cold wars:
The U.S. Department of Defense budget is bigger than the total governmental budgets of Great Britain, France, West Germany and Italy combined.

Quickies: Nearly one-third of U.S. families have a large medical, hospital or funeral bill every year. You're safer from accidents in a modern steel mill than in a supermarket. The cow was domesticated about 9,000
B.C. Women who marry between the ages of 30 and 34 are the least likely to get divorced.

It was Mark Twain who observed, "Be virtuous and you

Jump Overcall Has Weakness

The weak jump overcall is designed to disrupt the opponents' normal communication and make it hard for them to reach the correct final contract.
It has two main disadvantages.
The first is that sometimes the opponents stop to double the overcall and when the smoke of battle clears away it is disclosed that he has lost more than he would have if only he had kept still. The second is that it frequently gives the eventual declarer valuable information as to how to play the hand.

There is a third disadvantage.
Sometimes it actually helps the other side to reach the best final contract.

Left to themselves, North and South might well have failed to get beyond four hearts but West's three club bid started them swinging along and made it easy for them to reach six diamonds.

It also made the play quite easy for South. After winning the club opening and pulling trumps with two leads South decided that the odds were overwhelmingly in favor of finding the queen of hearts in the East hand. Hence he cashed dummy's ace of hearts, led a second heart, and finessed his jack.
Then he picked up East's queen with the king and discarded two spades on dummy's long hearts.

If West had just kept still it is likely that South might have made the hand anyway. He could have taken the winning heart finesse or he might have played out the ace and king of hearts and then thrown East in with a third heart after the queen failed to drop. Then East would have either had to give South a ruff and discard or led away from his king of spades.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemor-roids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing sub-

Final Symphony Concert April 7th

The final concert of the 1964-
65 season for the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra will be given Wednesday, April 7, at 8:15 p.m. in Rammekamp
Chapel on the campus of Illinois College.

Season ticket holders and members of the Jacksonville Symphony Society will be admitted without additional charge, and general admission tickets may be purchased at $1.50 each, according to membership chairman Mrs. Friedrich Engelbach. Special student tickets for the spring concert are being sold at 75¢ each.

Five numbers will be played next Wednesday by the Jacksonville orchestra, now in its second year of performance.

The program includes "Overture to the opera 'Marriage of Figaro,'" by W. A. Mozart,

"Symphony No. 8 in F," by L.
van Beethoven, "Intermezzo,"
by D. C. Howard, "A Lincoln Portrait," by A. Copland, and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," by Ralph Matesky.

Expect Composer

Dr. Henry E. Busche is conductor of the orchestra. According to Dr. Walter B. Hendrickson, orchestra business manager, Dean C. Howard—composer of one of the concert numbers—possibly will attend the concert to conduct his "Intermezzo." Howard is well-known for several contemporary solo sonatas, songs, and pieces for band and orchestra.

Lincoln Portrait
The last two works on the program are in recognition of the Centennial of the Civil War and the death of Abraham Lincoln.
Both numbers are by American composers.

"The Lincoln Portrait" will feature Rev. William K. Stur-gess, minister of Central Christian Church, as narrator. Ordained in 1962, Sturgess came to Jacksonville from Webster Groves Christian Church. A

said. "That the Rev. W. K.

orchestra as narrator of the "Lincoln Portrait" is indicative of the community-wide inter-years, has conducted the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra since its inception in 1963.

One of 160 choral directors in the U.S. to be selected for inclusion in the 1961 Music Journal Annual, he was at one time assistant to the conductor of the University of Michigan Concert Band. He holds the D. Ed. degree from the University of Illinois, the M.M. degree from the University of Michigan, and the
A.B. degree from Indiana Col-

LITER AID SETS MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET IN MAY

The Liter Baptist Aid met at the church last week. Mrs. Ralph Ginder, president, called the meeting to order with the flag pledge led by Mrs. Leland McGinnis. Hymn singing was led by Mrs. Edward Braner, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat.

Mrs. Braner read from the 28th chapter of St. Matthew for devotions and a message from Dr. Holland of his experiences and beliefs of Easter. Prayer was offered.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ireland Thompson, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Leland McGinnis.

Mrs. Merrill Master announced the annual Mother and Daughter banquet will be at Rossi's cafe in Virginia, May 5th, at 6:30 DST. Reservations are to be given by April 29th to any one of the committee, Mrs. Master, Mrs. Russell Hymes or Mrs. Leland McGinnis. Roll call was answered with gifts and donations to the nursery.

Mrs. Marvin Sorrell was program chairman for the afternoon, reading an article entitled "A Sermonette, Slow Down and Live" and "Easter is How Shall We Enjoy It." A contest was won by Mrs. John McGinnis and Mrs. Leland McGinnis. The Aid benediction closed the meeting, after which the hostesses, Mrs. Raymond Roach and Mrs. Clarence Mallicoat served desert, mints, nuts and coffee.

Bans On Right To Vote Vary Around The World

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Restrictions on the right to vote vary around the world. And while many countries boast of constitutional guarantees on voting rights, none exist there.

Only Saudi Arabia and Yemen among U.N. member nations fail to provide any electoral rights for men or women. Even in those two countries the wind of change is blowing.

Afghanistan, Iraq, Jordan, Kuwait and Liechtenstein bar women from the polls or standing for elective office of any kind. Switzerland bars women from voting in federal elections.

Racial restrictions have claimed a major share of public attention in the field of voting rights, but there are many others. Sex, language, literacy, religion, politics, property, national origin, and residency all figure in determining the right of a person to go to the polls.

Here is a sampling of factors in countries around the world which bear on the right to vote:

In Thailand, monks and novices in that Buddhist country are not permitted to vote. A citizen whose father is an alien must have completed the final year of a secondary school course, fulfilled his military service obligation, or have been an appointed government official or teacher for five years to be eligible to vote.

Afghanistan demands a year's residency in an electoral district of males 21 or over before they can vote for a Grand Assembly whose candidates must be approved by the government.

In tiny Andorra in the Pyrenees between France and Spain only heads of families may vote for members of the General Council.

Illiterates and enlisted men in the armed forces are barred from voting in Brazil, but compulsory voting is in force for men and employed women 18-70. Voting is optional for persons 70 or older, unemployed women and officers of the armed forces.

Chile restricts its voters to literate citizens 21 or over, but foreigners residents for five years or more can vote in municipal elections.

In Ecuador literacy tests bar from the polls much of the Indian population, which makes up about half of the total population.

Liberia applies a property restriction — owners of a hut on which they pay a tax.

Iran won't extend voting rights to beggars or other persons who do not earn their living by "honorable means." Those who renounce the Moslem faith are likewise barred.

In Canada full voting rights have yet to be extended to Indians and Eskimos in some provinces.

MURRAYVILLE WSCE SELECTS NEW SLATE OF OFFICERS

MURRAYVILLE — The W.S.C.E. of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the church.

The vice president Mrs. Herman Baker opened the meeting with a worship service. The program was presented by Mrs. T. G. Beadles assisted by Mrs. Laurence Million, Mrs. Harold Walsh and Mrs. Herman Baker.

Organ music by Mrs. Owen Candler was played during the program. The minutes were read by the secretary Mrs. G. W. Hamilton, and roll call was answered by 15 members. The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Earl Hall.

It was announced that a district meeting would be held at Quincy April 9.

The nominating committee of Mrs. Sadie Million, Mrs. Herman Baker and Mrs. Harry Rimbey presented the following list of officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. Herman Baker; vice president, Mrs. Elsie Tendick; secretary, Mrs. Earl Hall; missionary education, Mrs. Arthur Wilson. Supplies and literature, Mrs. T. G. Beadles; spiritual life, Mrs. G. W. Hamilton; children's work, Mrs. Harold Walsh; students and youth, Mrs. Gerald Walker; Christian social relations, Mrs. Irene Atkinson; social church activities, Mrs. Harry Rimbey; membership and fellowship, Mrs. Edith Harding; promotion secretary, Mrs. Mary Simpson; publicity, Mrs. Robert E. Mutch.

A collection was taken to send to Cunningham home at Urbana for Easter. The spiritual life thought was given by Mrs. Harry Rimbey.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah. The next meeting will be the May breakfast on May 6 at the home of Mrs. Herman Baker.

TWO FOR SPACE

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

In the past two weeks there have been two flights by two-man teams in space. The first was made by Russian Cosmonauts Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov and Col. Belyayev in Voskhod 2. The second was made by astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Comdr. John Young in Gemini-Titan 3, called GT3 for short.

Both the Russian Cosmonauts and the Co-Pilot of the American spacecraft, John Young, were on their first trip into space. Grissom, however, was a veteran of the Second Project Mercury manned suborbital flight.

You may remember that this flight ended with a swim for life for Grissom when his Mercury capsule, Liberty Bell 7, sank after landing in the ocean. This prompted Grissom to name the Gemini space craft he piloted the Molly Brown because he wanted it to be unsinkable.

Voskhod Larger As with most Soviet space craft the Voskhod is larger than the Gemini weighing some 15,000 pounds, compared to Gemini's 7,000 pounds. It has room enough for three men, if they are not incumbered by bulky space suits and their associated equipment. This was demonstrated on the first Voskhod flight on October 12, 1964. Like the second flight, in March, this flight lasted only a day.

The Russians have shown, however, that they can keep a man in space for four days. This record length trip in space was made by Maj. Andrian Grigorievich Nikolae in Voskhod III starting August 12, 1962.

The second Voskhod space flight was highlighted by Cosmonaut Leonov's trip outside the capsule. This meant that the Russian's are still at least 90 days ahead of us in this phase of manned space flight. This is a considerably shorter lead than the Russians had when they orbited Lt. Yuri A. Gagarin on April 12, 1961, almost a year before John Glenn made the first orbital flight for the United States.

Something New The flight of Grissom and Young in the "Molly Brown" accomplished one thing that the Russians have not yet tried. The two astronauts were able to change the orbit of their spacecraft both vertically and horizontally. The ability to do this will be very important on the Apollo manned flights to the moon.

Africa, Asia and Latin America have birth rates ranging from 40 to 50 births per 1,000 population per year, the Population Reference Bureau, Inc., reports.

GYMNASTICS FINALS OPEN CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The final rounds of the NCAA 1965 Gymnastics Championships open Friday with 115 men representing 34 universities qualified for national titles competition.

Ed Isabelle of Penn State, last year's runner-up for the all-around trophy, and Jim Curzi of Michigan State are among favorites for the 1965 all-around title to be determined Friday.

Curzi finished third last year. Penn State and Washington, which finished in a fourth-place tie in 1964, meet Saturday for the national team title.

Washington upset Iowa State last week at Boulder, Colo., in the semifinals. Penn State eliminated Southern Illinois University, the 1964 team victor.

Let's Go Birding —

MANY DUCKS

By Enma Mae Leonhard

We hope that the article last Sunday about the one little Ruddy or Sleepy-head did not mislead our readers. Although he was the sole possessor of that triangular bit of ice-free water, he wasn't the only duck on the lakes of Morgan county. As we explored the lakes that same morning, we identified twelve other species of ducks.

Morgan County Audubon Society, on the following Saturday, March 20, enjoyed a duck field-trip at Morgan, Maunville, and Jacksonville lakes under the leadership of William O'Brien. Those eight members who were brave enough to face the cutting wind and the treacherous roads were rewarded by identifying eighteen different kinds. They succeeded in locating all but one kind of duck that could possibly be here except for rarities or accidentals; this was the Red-breasted Merganser. No one could recall such a record before.

View Hundreds In addition to eighteen kinds, the observers saw hundreds of ducks behaving in their characteristic ways: some were tipped upside down as they were dabbling for their food; some were just floating and riding the waves. Just like people, they were all shapes and sizes: large long-drawn, short and chunky, big-headed, round-headed, flat-headed, Aristocrats, White-collars, mere civilians, laborers, clowns, jokers, philosophers—all mingled, with the exception of a few independent dreamers. There were red-heads, white-heads, gray-heads, brown-heads, and even green-heads. Could they possibly have been wearing wigs!

And what a color display! Shades of reds, greens, browns, whites, grays reflected from the long raft of ducks like exotic flowers and foliage in a garden, or like the mottled clothes of dancers in a ball room. There were white coats and black coats, long tails; white checks and white throats; shining satin dresses of indescribable shades.

The Audubon Society members were not alone in seeing and enjoying the many ducks on or near the same lakes. The Jack Ward family hiked from the boat-dock area at Lake Jacksonville to the scene of many ducks and reported their excitement and fun to us.

Clyde McDaniel shared with us the great scene which he snatched upon, the scene of hundreds of ducks flying into and out of fields where they were feeding. Undoubtedly many others were delighted in similar duck scenes in March, the month of many ducks.

Glass-Eyed Cat

By John Rankin

Two old neighbors of Ted and his family are constantly quarreling — blowing leaves, snow clearing — and now it's that glass-eyed cat that doesn't belong to either one. One says the cat is bad luck, the other objects to the cat being disturbed. Dad thinks it's all rather funny, but Mom has a different view.

Mom left her chair to straighten some papers on the table before turning to Dad. "I find nothing amusing about the whole thing, Arnold," she said in a serious tone. "Especially when it may bring the police to our very door."

A couple of nights later Ted and Mom were watching television when Dad got home. "Well, how did things go on the home front today?" he asked lightly as he hung up his coat. "Did our belligerent neighbors continue hostilities?"

Cat's Owner Comes Mom got up and turned off the television before she answered Dad. "Thank goodness the source of their wrangling has been removed," she smiled. "The cat's owner showed up today and took the thing away."

"And she must be really loaded with dough," Ted chimed in. "Had a chauffeur to drive her shiny looking car and she even paid a big reward for the cat."

"Whew! A reward," Dad whistled softly. "I'll bet Mr. Cully and Mr. Dooley really tangled over that, eh?"

"They did at first, but when the lady said she'd double the reward and split it between them they got real friendly," Ted explained. "Then when they tried to catch the cat the crazy thing climbed a tree and they had to call out the fire department to get it down."

Cat Brings Truce Dad moved to a chair and rested his feet on a stool. "I was never one for superstition," he said thoughtfully. "But if that glass-eyed cat has effected a truce between Mr. Cully and Mr. Dooley I'll believe that instead of bringing bad luck he is a forerunner of peace."

"He must have had something to do with it, Dad," Ted added. "Mr. Cully and Mr. Dooley."

Abigail Growsome Once upon a time— When France was in its prime, There were gardens so lovely to see,

If you were to see them all you would Have to climb a tree! Little Abigail Growsome, Oh! She was very lonesome. She followed a very tiny trail And she was bound to see that garden,

Or her name wasn't Abigail! She found a garden gigantic, Just as big as the Atlantic! Flowers, flowers, flowers, galore, Roses, daffodils, jonquils, and more!

So little Abby got wish And went to live with rich uncle McBish!

reopened earlier took some Westerners by surprise. Shortly before, West Berlin had been buzzing with rumors that the U.S. Army was preparing an armed convoy that would challenge the right of the East Germans to close the border.

There was some thought here that the Russians ordered the reopening because they did not want confrontation with the U.S. Army.

The Russians had notified the Western powers that Soviet military aircraft would fly across the air corridors and that certain altitudes could not be used by the three Western airlines that serve West Berlin.

The Soviets said they wanted to use the altitudes from 2,000 to 4,000 feet. Commercial planes normally fly between 6,000 and 7,000 feet, except on their approach to Berlin.

The airlines have experienced such threats in the past and went ahead with their flights. Up to noon there had been no interference with the Western air traffic.

A U.S. military convoy made the road trip from West Berlin to West Germany without interference, but it left the divided city before the East Germans closed the superhighway across East Germany.

A British military spokesman said Soviet soldiers halted three British cars as they tried to drive out of Berlin. They returned to the British checkpoint to await developments.

A British military vehicle was stopped at Helmsdorf, the West German end of the autobahn.

Hundreds of automobiles piled up at both ends of the 110-mile highway as the East Germans lowered their steel barriers and said "no" to all travelers.

Although civilian traffic was stopped at both ends of the autobahn — the superhighway linking West Berlin and West Germany — Allied military traffic apparently was not affected.

A U.S. Army convoy of 18 vehicles carrying 80 combat infantrymen moved out of West Berlin in the direction of West Germany shortly before the highway was closed.

The U.S. convoy reached West Germany after an uneventful 3 1/2-hour journey through East Germany. Since it left Berlin before the frontiers were closed, it did not directly challenge the closing of the main highway.

Military traffic is checked by the Soviets. East German border guards were enforcing the ban on civilian traffic.

back West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt Sunday as he attempted to drive to Berlin. Brandt, leader of West Germany's opposition Socialist party, was returning from a party meeting in the Baltic port of Luebeck. He flew home from Hamburg.

About half of the 499 Bundestag members have arrived in Berlin by commercial airliner.

A ranking member said the Western Allies — the United States, Britain and France — would transport any stranded lawmakers in military planes.

The Soviet Union and East Germany warned in notes to the Western powers that the session — the first in Berlin in seven years — could lead to serious international complications.

There was no immediate reaction from the Allies, who had given West Germany permission to hold the meeting. The Communists contend that West Berlin is not part of West Germany and therefore the West German Parliament has no right to sit there. The West Germans say they have as much right to hold sessions in West Berlin as the East German regime has in East Berlin.

66 Navy, AF Planes Attack N. Viet Nam

One diesel train exploded during the 30-minute raid, and another locomotive and two trucks were left in flames.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor returned from policy talks in Washington and hinted that the United States will broaden its role in the fight against the Communists.

Taylor told an airport news conference that there was no sign that the North Vietnamese regime wants peace talks at this time.

"I believe it should be clear to friend and foe alike," he said, "that our commitment here is irrevocable and I will be discussing with Prime Minister (Phan Huy) Quat and other members of his government additional ways which our common effort can be strengthened during the weeks ahead."

A U.S. crew chief on an armed helicopter was killed when the aircraft crashed in South Viet Nam's central highlands.

The helicopter apparently lost power, skidded 60 yards when it hit the ground and caught fire, a U.S. spokesman said.

In addition to the two U.S. jets shot down by the Communist MIGs Sunday, U.S. officials in Saigon said heavy Red ground-fire downed a number of other aircraft that made the 60-plane attack on a strategic bridge 65 miles south of Hanoi.

Officials did not disclose the total number of planes lost because rescue efforts were still going on. A South Vietnamese spokesman said three South Vietnamese Skyraiders were hit on another raid, that one returned safely to its base and the pilots of the other two planes were missing.

A Communist Chinese dispatch claimed 37 U.S. and South Vietnamese planes were brought down, but it made no mention of the MIGs.

Both American planes hit by the MIGs crashed into the sea. The body of one pilot was picked up by rescue ships.

The pilot of a U.S. Air Force propeller-driven Skyraider also went down into the sea when his plane was hit by fire from Red gunboats. He was listed as missing.

JAARC TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

The Jacksonville Area Association for Retarded Children, Inc. will meet at the Morgan County Health Department on Thursday, April 8, at 8 p.m. Parents of all mentally handicapped children and others interested are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Jean Book, clinical psychologist at the Jacksonville State Hospital, will present the program. Since early last summer, Mrs. Book and her associates at Psychological Services Associated have been volunteering their services for psychological testing of the children entering Pathway School. The service has included giving of pertinent information regarding the children tested to the Director and teachers thru staff conferences. Interviews with the parents of children tested are also an important part of the service they offer.

LBJ Sends Plan To Congress

price and income stabilization programs cost more than $3 billion a year. The net farm income last year was about $12.6 billion.

Along with wheat, the farm bill proposed a two-year extension of the feed grains program and a four-year extension of the wool stabilization program, both with some changes; a sharp modification in the rice support program; a cropland retirement system offering rental payments for land taken out of surplus crops and authority for farmers to sell, lease or otherwise transfer acreage planting allotments.

The measure contained no recommendations for either the cotton program or for creation of an emergency food reserve, both of which Johnson had mentioned in a special farm message on Feb. 4.

Administration officials said cotton wasn't included because no agreement has been reached on possible improvements. The food reserve plan still is being studied.

The wheat program, which would cover two years, would work this way:

Wheat grown for domestic food use would be supported at the parity price goal of federal farm programs, which, in the case of this grain, is about $2.50 a bushel. Under the present program, domestically consumed wheat is supported at $2.

As in the case now, all wheat grown by farmers complying with the program by holding down acreages would be eligible for price supports at about $1.25 a bushel, the same as at present.

The millers would have to pay $1.25 a bushel on all wheat milled for domestic consumption compared with 75 cents now. Money paid by millers through purchase of marketing certificates would go to farmers complying with the program on the basis of their share of the domestic food wheat market of about 500 million bushels.

This would mean that wheat for domestic food use would cost millers at least 50 cents a bushel more than at present. They would be expected to pass this cost on to consumers in the form of higher prices for flour, bread and other wheat food products.

The $1.25 wheat support would be at or near the world market price — a fact that would permit the elimination of the present export certificate and export subsidy on wheat moving abroad.

The elimination of these devices would bring an annual saving of around $150 million a year to the government.

Under the present program, exporters must buy export certificates at 30 cents a bushel — returns from which also go to cooperating growers.

With cooperating growers getting 50 cents a bushel more on their share of the wheat used domestically, the government would eliminate the export certificate.

As under the present program, farmers would be free to ignore the program and increase wheat acreage. But they would be ineligible for either price supports or returns from marketing certificates.

Ross V. Randolph

The guest speaker for the meeting Saturday, April 10th, for the Jacksonville Woman's Club is Ross V. Randolph, Warden of Illinois State Penitentiary, Menard Branch. Mr. Randolph will relate the story of a system designed to reclaim the maladjusted lives of men who have failed to conform to the demands of modern society.

Since 1953, when Mr. Randolph became Warden at Menard, a modern correctional program has incorporated the philosophy "Prisoners Are People." The prison is a tool in the creation of a more perfect society.

The meeting will be called to order at 2 p. m. by the President Mrs. James Dunlap, in the Social Room of Main Hall, McMurray College. Mrs. Frank Foote, public health chairman, urges all members to bring jam or jelly for Oaklawn patients. This is an annual obligation to the County Federation.

Carman Potter of Jacksonville will sing, accompanied by Mrs. G. O. Webster.

Former Area Resident Killed In Florida Crash

Relatives and friends in the Jacksonville - Winchester area have received word of the sudden, tragic death last Wednesday afternoon of Kathleen Oehler Tomsen of St. Louis, Mo. The fatal injury happened near Frost Proof, Fla. as Mrs. Tomsen in company with her daughter and family were enjoying a motor vacation trip through the southern states. Her son-in-law James Baumann, also met death in the accident, which was reported to have been a head-on collision in which four cars were involved.

Mrs. Tomsen was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Julius Oehler, former residents of the Winchester area. She was a 1920 graduate of Winchester High School, was a teacher in the Scott County schools for several years and later graduated from the St. Louis Baptist Hospital School of Nursing. She was married to Robert Tomsen who died five years ago.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Baumann of St. Louis, Mrs. Joan Haase of Springfield, Mass., five grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson of Belleville and Mrs. Grace Welch of Macomb. Also she leaves an aged uncle S. E. Oehler of Astoria.

Funeral services for Mrs. Tomsen will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday from the Baumann Funeral Home at 2504 Woodson Road, Overland, Mo. Services for her son-in-law will be held at the same address at 8:30 a.m., Thursday.

Many Volunteer Information On KKK Pressures

By DON CARSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edwin E. Willis said unsolicited information has been pouring in for the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Louisiana Democrat is chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which announced the probe last week.

Willis, interviewed on the CBS radio and television program "Face the Nation," said much of the help is in the form of letters from businessmen who offer to detail their experience with Klan threats.

Willis said the investigation — launched after President Johnson called the Klan "a hooded society of bigots" — will be divided into three phases.

The first, now under way, is the gathering of facts. It will be followed by hearings and then drafting of legislation.

Other legislation also is in the offing.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said he hopes to have his proposals ready for the President within two weeks.

The attorney general said he expects them to be aimed at giving the federal government jurisdiction over the sort of activities attributed to the Klan.

In other weekend developments concerning the Klan: — The Americans for Democratic Action went on record in opposition to the probe by the Committee on Un-American Activities.

— Mrs. C. L. Wilkins of Birmingham accused President Johnson of prejudicing the trial of her son, one of four Klan members accused in the Alabama slaying of Viola Liuzzo, 39, a civil rights worker from Detroit.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Early gains were cut and the stock market turned mixed late this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.1 million shares compared with 5.01 million Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses ran from fractions to about a point or more.

Boeing was a 2-point gainer on news it would receive the Lion's share of a $750-million plane order from United Air Lines. Douglas Aircraft, which would receive a minor share of the order, slumped more than 2 in heavy trading that made it the volume leader.

General Motors also was very active as it touched a new high and held a gain of a point. Dupont helped the averages with a rise exceeding 2.

Chrysler erased an early gain and showed a fractional net loss. Evans Products lost more than 2 and United Artists 1.

Many gains were trimmed throughout the list.

Lorillard, which posted a wholesale price increase for filter cigarettes, was up more than a point. Other stocks in this group were mixed.

Also up about a point were General Dynamics, U.S. Gypsum, Illinois Central, Allied Products, Burroughs, Calgon, Continental Insurance, Endicott Johnson, General Bronze, Leonard Refineries, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Fluorid, Permutit, National Airlines and J. Ray McDermott.

American - South African investment lost more than 1.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher in heavy trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U.S. government bonds declined.

Play With Fire Brings Death To 8 Children

LOCKPORT, Ill. (AP) — Eight children were killed late Sunday night in a fire authorities said was started by a 4-year-old girl playing with matches.

Will County sheriff's deputies said the youth, Robin Townsend, dropped a lighted match in a waste basket, setting refuse and nearby plastic curtains on fire. Within seconds, police said, flames spread throughout the nine-room, tar paper covered house, located in rural Lockport.

Asleep in other rooms were Robin's mother, Mrs. Irene Harris, 35, her six other children, and one-month-old Adrian Hollins, daughter of Mrs. Kay Hollins, 18. Mrs. Hollins lived in the Harris home, but was away at the time. Both mothers were receiving Aid to Dependent Children relief.

Police said that as the flames spread, James Harris, 16, and his mother were awakened and, along with neighbors, attempted without success to rescue Robin and the sleeping children. James was hospitalized with burns and Mrs. Harris for shock.

The victims, found huddled together in a back bedroom, were burned beyond recognition. They were identified as Mrs. Hollins' daughter, Adrian, and Mrs. Harris' children, Kenneth, 12, Deborah, 14, Gloria, 7, Cynthia, 5, Robin Townsend, 4, and 2-year-old twins, Lisa and Lori Barfield.

Plan Ceremonies To Honor Lincoln

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The centennial of the end of the Civil War and of the funeral of Abraham Lincoln will be marked April 30 through May 4 in Springfield.

Robert Lincoln Beckwith, of Arlington, Va., one of three surviving great grandchildren of Lincoln, will make his first visit to Lincoln's hometown.

Four Pulitzer prize winners will take part. Allan Nevins and Bruce Catton, both historians, and Mark Van Doren and Gwendolyn Brooks, both poets, will be on the program. Composer-conductor Norman Luboff will also participate.

Speakers will include Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex. The climax will be a ceremony at Lincoln's Tomb May 4 at almost the exact hour Lincoln was buried there a hundred years ago.

The chapter from Carl Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln, the War Years" that begins "There was a funeral..." will be read. The Illinois General Assembly will hold a joint session in the old state capital. The Lincoln home will be dedicated as a national historic landmark.

On May 2, visitors will tour reconstructed New Salem village, have a box supper there in the park, and be entertained in the Kelso Hollow open air theater.

Baylor Lost For Season

Clark Swimming World's Answer To Bannister

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor, No. 1 forward of the Los Angeles Lakers, was reported resting comfortably today after doctors removed part of his left kneecap, torn in a freak accident Saturday night.

The injury will prevent Baylor, who has scored more than 2,000 points this year for the fourth time in his pro career, from helping his team in the National Basketball Association post-season playoffs, a hospital spokesman said. But if the knee responds to therapy, he may be in the line-up next season.

An orthopedic specialist said the Lakers' All-Star would be hospitalized for about a week and then wear a cast for a month.

"Every effort will be made to rehabilitate the knee for his return to the Lakers next season," Dr. Robert Kerlan said.

Saturday, four minutes into the opener of the best-of-7 series with Baltimore, Baylor leaped into the air for one of his deadly jump shots. Suddenly he dropped to the floor in pain and limped from the game.

Sunday afternoon doctors removed the uppermost layer of fibrous matter of his kneecap and a tendon attached to it.

"The doctor told me that it was a freak injury," Baylor explained. "The top part of the kneecap just pulled away from the rest of it."

Even without Baylor, the Lakers managed to defeat the Bulls 121-115, thanks to a 49-point performance by Jerry West.

SAARI, MANN AND ROBIE each won two events and Saari was the top individual point-getter with 19.

Saari successfully defended his AAU 1,650-yard butterfly title; Mann won the 100-yard backstroke; and Robie won the 200-yard butterfly.

Southern Cal far outdistanced North Carolina A.C. in the team totals, 74 to 47. Next came the Yale freshmen with 25 points and behind them, their varsity brethren with 21.

Schollander led the Yale frosh with a victory in the 200-yard freestyle, in which he was the defending AAU champion.

2 SURPRISE NCAA GYMNASTIC FIELD AT SIU NATIONAL

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Mike Jacobson and Frank Schmitz were unexpectedly bright figures Friday and Saturday, dominating the 23rd annual NCAA National Gymnastics Championships.

Jacobson, a senior from Los Angeles who did not appear among the 10 finalists in any event last year, led Penn State to the 1965 team title while winning a special trophy for the best all-around performance in six events.

Schmitz, a Southern Illinois University sophomore from Lafayette, La., won top honors in two of the meet's seven events, and finished a close second in a third trial.

Penn State, which eliminated defending titlist SIU in team semifinals March 27, dominated Washington University 68.5-51.5 for the national team championship. Jacobson tallied 29 of the Lions' points.

Penn State won its last national trophy in 1961. It now is tied with the University of Illinois for the highest number of team championships. Each has eight.

Nearly 115 gymnasts from 34 universities battled for 42 finalist points in individual competition accompanying the team finals.

Schmitz won in floor exercise and on the trampoline. Jacobson, second in floor exercise, tied with Jim Curzi of Michigan State for first on the horizontal bar.

Schmitz was second on the long horse, only a fourth of a point behind Dan Millman of California. A crowd of 6,500 watched in SIU's arena.

Bob Elsingor of Springfield College, Mass., won the side horse event. Curzi was victor on the parallel bars with Jacobson third, and Glenn Galis of Iowa was still rings champion.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — "These young fellows," scoffed Sam Snead from the vantage point of some 52 years, "just aren't ready yet."

He didn't name any names — names like Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus, for example — and a broad smile creased his wrinkled old face after his victory in the $70,000 added Greensboro Open.

But the faded and feared Slammin' Sam of another golfing era took definite note, in his joshing fashion, that this was the last warmup before the Masters, the biggest of them all.

"Those odds on me oughta go 'way down now," Sam observed. "Say from 20-1 to about 19-1."

The odds will be much lower on Palmer and Nicklaus, the co-favorites. But old Sam, who will be after his fourth title, must be given some consideration after his impressive, five-stroke triumph Sunday that made him the oldest man ever to win a PGA tourney. It was his eighth victory in the Greensboro event, sometimes called "The Sam Snead Open," since 1938. And he did it in a breeze.

By shooting sub-70 rounds four times, Snead posted a winning total of 273, five better than his three nearest pursuers — Billy Casper, Phil Rodgers and Jack McGowan.

Now he moves to Augusta, Ga., and the Masters starting Thursday, hoping "I keep putting like I have here and the rest of my game picks up a little."

By winning the $11,000 top prize he brought his earnings in 25 years here to more than $41,000.

Snead, opening with a three-under-par 68 for the 7,000-yard Sedgefield County Club course, followed with a 69 that gave him the co-lead with Bill Casper. On Saturday, his 68 put him two shots in front of Labron Harris Jr. A final 68 Sunday completed the rout.

Rodgers, Casper and McGowan each won $4,733. Then came Harris in fifth place at $279 for $3,200.

British Open champion Tony Lama had a 67 finish for 280 and sixth place to win $2,900.

Gary Player shot 66 for a 283 finish. He tied for 14th with Arnold Palmer, defending Masters champ who closed with 67, his fourth sub-70 round in five tournaments this year.

LEAGUE EXPANDED

MADISON (AP)—The Central States League was expanded to eight teams Sunday with the admission of West Allis and the Lake County Rifles of Waukegan, Ill.

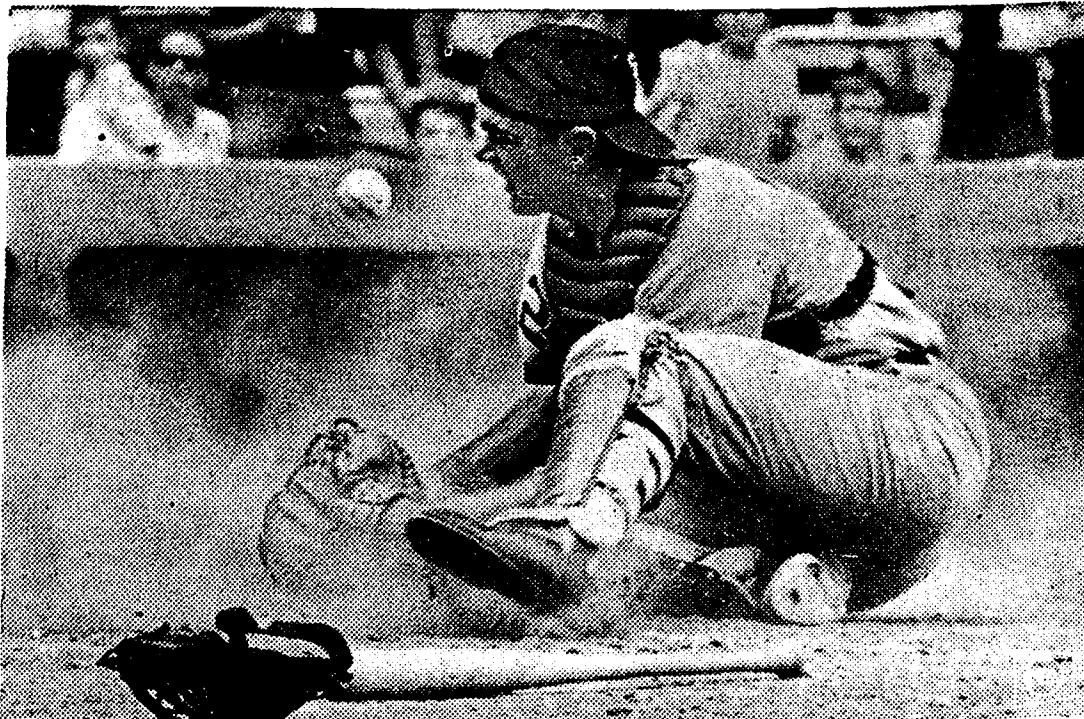

West Allis, a Milwaukee suburb, will compete with Manitowoc, Sheboygan and Madison in the league's northern division. Waukegan will join Racine, Chicago and Elmhurst, Ill., in the southern division.

The league voted to open its season Aug. 21. Each team will play division rivals twice and members of the other division once, with division champions meeting for the league title Oct. 20.

front than in the backcourt, the Celtics' forwards outscored their Philadelphia counterparts 60-29.

Bold Lad Shows Derby Potential

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kentucky Derby had a bold hue today with Bold Lad ready to take on the best 3-year-old thoroughbreds in the land at Churchill Downs May 1.

The strapping son of Bold Ruler—Misty Morn from the Wheatley Stable—erased any doubts as to his recovery from two popped splints in his forelegs when he romped to victory over four older horses in a six-furlong race at Aqueduct last Saturday.

Making his first start since wrapping up the 1964 2-year-old championship by winning the Champagne last Oct. 17, Bold Ruler ran off the early pace, then turned on the pressure in the home stretch and won by three lengths in 1:10 3-5 without any urging by jockey Braulio Baeza.

"He came out of the race in fine shape," said trainer Bill Winfrey Sunday. "His next start will be in the Wood and then, if all goes well, he'll be off for the Derby, which has been his chief objective all along with the Preakness and Belmont Stakes."

Meantime, Flag Raiser, Native Charger, Tom Rolfe and Swift Ruler moved up in pre-Derby figuring as the future of the well-rated Jacinto remained clouded.

Flag Raiser, a speed demon, took the $57,400 Gotham at Aqueduct for four lengths with a 1:36 3-5 clicking off the one mile after ripping off the first six furlongs in 1:10 4-5.

Native Charger, for whom Major Algert Warner paid $20,500 as a yearling, added the Florida Derby to his flamingo credentials with a neck triumph over the stretch-running Hail to All in the 1½ mile $119,800 Gulf

Clamp Down On Soybean Marketing Information

By OVID A. MARTIN

Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is clamping down on release of market and supply information regarding soybeans because of the highly speculative character of this rapidly increasing crop.

The department acted after getting reports that some speculators have obtained forecasts on size of markets and future supplies in advance, and thus gained trading advantages in farm commodity futures.

Soybeans, a source of vegetable oil, have replaced corn, wheat and cotton as the major products around which commodity speculation has centered. Unlike cotton and the grains, there has been no surplus of soybeans. Prices, therefore, have been free to move up and down.

The department regularly issues report on fats and oils — soybeans, cottonseed, lard and edible tallows — giving its latest predictions on domestic and foreign markets and the size of remaining supplies.

For years these reports have been given to reporters a day or so ahead of the release date. Now the department is restricting advance distribution to a limited group of newsmen.

In addition, the department is specifying that none of the material may be transmitted on news wires before 3 p.m. EST, the day of the release. This is an hour that most commodity markets close.

The latest report, issued Thursday, predicted supplies of U.S. soybeans will be virtually exhausted by the time the 1965 crop is available. It said supplies, 732 million bushels for the 1964 crop year ending Sept. 30, will be down to about 10 million — less than one week's supply — on that day.

The department also announced it expects the amount of feed grain diverted from production this year under its surplus control program to be slightly larger than last year.

Farmers who divert get payments and price supports. Payments last year amounted to almost $1.2 billion.

Incomplete returns from feed grain areas indicate that 34.1 million acres of corn, sorghum grain and barley will be held from production this year to help reduce surpluses. Last year, growers diverted 34.3 million acres, but final returns from this year's sign-up are expected to exceed last year's.

The department said incomplete returns showed 1,373,709 of the 3,185,796 farms growing these grains had signed. Texas was first in intended diversion with 3,647,400 acres and Iowa second with 3,286,300.

some men are saints and some are sinners.

Already, investigations are helping explain why some men are fat and some are thin.

Miller, 55, and robustly overweight, professes a personal interest in the weight problem, and though he insists his work is pure research aimed at scientific understanding rather than immediate practical application, he himself sees one application which may result.

"It is conceivable," he said, "that if we understand the higher mechanism better, we'll someday be able to design a better pill to control appetite."

The hypothalamus is tiny — in man it is no bigger than a walnut — but it is involved in a variety of jobs. In addition to its own complex of neural circuits, connectors to other regions of the brain pass through it. Trying to isolate a single sector without disturbing another is no simple matter.

Using an implanted cannula — a needle-thin tube — they are able to insert chemicals found in the brain into specific areas and watch the reactions produced.

The results suggest that messages in the brain may be sent by a chemical code, informing the creature when it is hungry or thirsty. The hypothalamus gets the various responses that lead to the act of eating or drinking.

"We are looking for signals of some kind that go to the brain," Miller said, explaining that they could be transmitted in the blood or through the nervous system.

A tough, 12-week training program emphasizing practical work, history, customs, health problems and culture of the country to which they are going, is given to Peace Corps volunteers.

Research May Shed Light On Why Some Men Are Fat Others Thin

By KEN HARTNETT

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The serpent had something to do with it when Eve ate that apple, but so quite probably did the hypothalamus.

That's a Greek word meaning below the inner chamber and it's part of the brain of all animals, man included.

Eve, like most people, probably didn't even know she had one, but at Yale University psychologists are studying the hypothalamus as the center of the appetite, as a regulatory mechanism switching on and off the impulse to eat and drink. But its role in the hunger and thirst mechanism is just a part of the work of the hypothalamus.

Studies at Yale and elsewhere have produced evidence linking the hypothalamus to the sexual instinct. In that small densely packed mass of tissue possibly may also be found the trigger that turns on rage or fear.

One of the workers on the hypothalamus at Yale is Prof. Neal E. Miller, who received a National Science Medal from President Johnson at a White House ceremony last Feb. 8.

Some scientists believe the work Miller and others are doing may shed light on why

Mrs. Ringo Starr Shuns Spotlight Of Publicity

LONDON (AP) — The 18-year-old wife of Ringo Starr — one of the world's best-known bridegrooms — is one of the world's least-known brides.

Maureen Cox, or Mrs. Ringo, is a small, shy girl of few words.

Since her Feb. 11 wedding to the Beatles' off-beat drummer, her public utterances have been about as rare as signatures of Button Gwinnett, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Maureen will not grant interviews.

"She doesn't want to get mixed up with publicity," said a spokesman for the mop-headed musicians. "and Ringo doesn't want her to, either."

A search of the records indicates that Mrs. Ringo — real married name Mrs. Richard Starkey — has spoken only a few sentences in public, all in answer to reporters' questions.

Her declarations were made in the flowerless backyard of a seaside villa in Hove on the English Channel, where she and her husband agreed to meet the press on the second day of their three-day honeymoon.

Even as she spoke, she nervously clutched her 24-year-old husband's hand.

Born Mary Cox in Liverpool, she began calling herself Maureen shortly before she met Ringo.

By trade she was what the British call a hair-dresser — a girl who works in a beauty parlor.

Maureen looks a lot like a Beatle herself.

She has as much hair as Ringo, Paul McCartney, George Harrison or John Lennon. Like the Beatles, Maureen wears bangs that flop downward almost to her eyelashes. She wears her ears exposed, as do the Beatles. Shapely in the right places, she's about two and a half inches shorter than Ringo and he stands about 5 feet 7. Her education is not extensive. for she stopped school at the age of 15. That's when she met Ringo.

Maureen says she doesn't remember where Ringo proposed, but he said it was in London's Ad Lib Club, about 2 o'clock one chilly January morning. They will soon move into an apartment on London's fashionable and expensive Montagu Square.

Kerner Special Guest At Music Festival

CACHE To Seek Support For City's Colleges

Industry and business in Jacksonville through a Chamber of Commerce fund-raising corporation called C.A.C.H.E. ("Committee for Advancement of Community Higher Education") will seek funds for the fourth year for support of the city's two colleges, Illinois College and MacMurray College.

The C.A.C.H.E. board of directors announced Saturday that the 1965 campaign co-chairmen will be James C. Coultas and Martin Newman, both local businessmen.

Since 1962 the organization has raised a total of $36,310.00 in three annual campaigns. All of the funds are divided equally between the two colleges for use in meeting their costs of operations. The campaigns do not replace the individual college alumni fund campaigns or special building fund drives, but are designed to be "business support programs for community higher education."

"Both colleges are private institutions with a combined total of more than 1500 full-time students."

Governor Otto Kerner was the special guest at the annual Music Festival at the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School Monday morning.

Gov. Kerner arrived shortly before 10 o'clock and was greeted by Alvin and Alice Derwester of Bloomington, twins in the kindergarten class. Kerner received flowers from the students.

The annual music festival is sponsored by Lowell B. Mason, former state senator, and seeks to award prizes to the students who achieve the greatest progress in their musical education for the year.

Mason, a Washington, D.C., attorney, became interested in the school during his tenure as a state senator and has continued his interest in the school and the students.

Governor Kerner made first-place presentations to Martha Farley and Richard Howe.

The program for the music festival included both instrumental and vocal selections by the students of the school.

Superintendent Jack R. Hartong introduced Governor Kerner and Senator Mason at the festival.

Governor Kerner left the school about 12:30 p.m. Monday because of pressing business in Springfield.

Asks Probation On Theft Charge

James Wood, 20, of 733 Allen Avenue entered a plea of guilty before Magistrate Don McNamara Monday morning and asked probation on two charges of petty larceny.

Wood is charged with the theft of a coat at the Tempo Store in Lincoln Square shopping center on Dec. 11, 1964, and the theft of trading stamps at Wareco Service Station on Feb. 24. His plea of guilty on both counts was accepted by the court.

Wood was taken to the county jail under $300 bond. The probation hearing was set for April 12. The investigation of the two cases was handled by city police.

Couple Injured In One-Car Crash Near Alexander

Two persons were injured in a one-car accident three miles east of Alexander near the Morgan-Sangamon County Line about two o'clock Monday morning.

Treated for cuts and abrasions at Passavant Hospital was 20 year old John W. Ellis, Jr., 525 Rosedale, the driver of the car. He was later released.

Also injured was a passenger in the auto, Carolyn Spencer, also 20, of Winchester. She reportedly suffered a broken arm and is reported in good condition at Passavant this morning.

State Police said that Ellis was going west and ran off the north side of the road, into a ditch, and hit a telephone pole. He was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions.

The badly damaged car was towed to a local garage.

Just one year ago Sunday night, Ellis was seriously injured in a two-car collision at North Main and Oak Streets in Jacksonville.

10,000 Visit Show

The camera catches a small part of the heavy Sunday afternoon crowd waiting to enter the premises of the 1965 Sports and Home Show, sponsored by the local Jaycees at the building formerly occupied by the Montgomery Ward. Over 10,000 attended the three day attraction which provided over 90 exhibits provided by more than 60 different merchants and services.

Jim Fenstermaker and Joe Sommers were co-chairmen for this year's show which broke all previous records both in attendance and booth leasing. Visitors were in evidence from not only the Jacksonville area but from Indiana, Ohio, Florida, Iowa and Missouri. Transits on highways encircling the Square even stopped to investigate and stayed to enjoy the displays and entertainment.

Jaycees were kept hopping during the three day run of the Show, Friday Saturday and Sunday. There was never a dull moment for either the members of the sponsoring organization or the personnel of the many exhibits.

Many children attended with their parents. There was no charge for children 12 years and under and families took advantage of this novel attraction which entertained and provided information for adults in all walks of life.

The best Booth of the show was judged that sponsored by Bill Wade, local photographer.

Pine Attempts To Return 5th Ward To GOP

Editor's Note: This is the tenth article in a series of 16 stories concerning the candidates for alderman in the city election April 20.

Republican candidate John R. Pine will be opposing Edward F. Brennan, Democrat employed with the state department of public works, for a four-year term as alderman representing the voters of the fifth ward.

Pine, 34, of Sunnyside, is a resident of the 15th precinct. The fifth ward is composed of precincts 13, 14 and 15. His opponent is presently serving an appointed term left vacant by the resignation of Milt Hocking, Republican.

John Pine

Pine was born in Springfield and lived in Monmouth with his parents from 1938 until he was called into the Korean conflict. He served with the U.S. Marine corps from 1951-54 as a member of an infantry line company, spending 21 months overseas.

After leaving the service, he attended and graduated from the University of Illinois with a degree in political science. He married Betty Fisherkeller of Springfield, and they are the parents of four children.

Pine moved to Jacksonville in 1959. He is the owner of the Public Service Agency, which acts in settling delinquent accounts. His offices are located in the new Savings and Loan building.

Ran For JP
Politically, Pine ran for justice of the peace against Democrat Richard Doyle in 1960 and was defeated in the county-wide election. Three years later he was defeated in his bid for alderman in the primary election by Milt Hocking by 105 votes.

Pine, whose father was Republican county treasurer in Warren county from 1958-62, is a member of the Church of Our Saviour, Knights of Columbus, Kiwanis, Elks, American Legion, Jacksonville Area Development Corporation, and is serving as first vice-president of the Young Republican club.

His wife Betty, is a member of the League of Women Voters, member of the local Girl Scout council, member of the American Association of University Women and the Morgan County Women's Republican club.

Pine feels that there will be continued commercial and residential growth in and adjacent to the fifth ward. He believes that this continued growth will affect residents of the fifth ward and the city.

Concerning needs of the fifth ward, Pine was quoted as saying, "I feel that the fifth ward alderman must be available to assist in the day-to-day problems that will arise."
